6 Pro Tigers

Clemson has had a major influence on pro football for many years. That tradition is upheld today. Whether it be the Chicago Bears William Perry sacking a quarterback, or the New York Giants Terry Kinard returning an interception for a touchdown, Clemson fans certainly enjoy watching their former Tigers on Sunday afternoon. Eric Young reviews the careers of all active Tigers in pro football on pages 6 and 7.

49 Wesley McFadden

53 Joe Henderson

Few people can say they were in Sports Illustrated before their 18th birthday. Joe Henderson had an incredible high school career and now he is racking up outstanding numbers at Clemson. He should go over the 2,000-yard mark in terms of all-purpose rushing in today's game. Mickey Plyler tells us all about Joe Henderson.

55 Tiger Families

Each week in October we will feature four Clemson football families.

62 Strength Training Facilities

Clemson's strength training facility is larger than most school's entire football staff building. Clemson has relied on the strength of its lines to win over 80 percent of its games in the decade of the eighties. Annabelle Vaughan highlights the importance of strength training in Clemson football.

79 Mother-of-the-Year

Each year Tiger Brotherhood honors the Clemson Mother-of-the-Year for her contributions to the Clemson community. The organization selected a top notch lady this year in Elsie Wilson, secretary to the last four Clemson University presidents. Heather Czezok summarizes her contributions to Clemson through the eyes of some of her employers.

108 Tiger Spirit

Clemson graduate Todd Steadman captured the true spirit of a Clemson football weekend in an article for Southern Living Magazine. If you want to tell someone who has never been to Clemson for a football game what Tigertown is really like, send them a copy of this program.

111 Academic All-Stars

Clemson has had many outstanding gridders in terms of classroom performance over the years, but the accomplishments have been especially noteworthy in recent years. Thirteen different Tigers have made the Academic All-ACC team the last four years.

112 The Last Word

Bob Bradley takes a look at the Virginia series, one which Clemson has dominated. But, that does not mean there haven't been some thrilling games.

Today's Game

By Tim Bourret

Two Winning Programs

Clemson and Virginia have been on winning streaks of late as both clubs have won nine of their last 10 contests. Virginia's only loss is to #1 Notre Dame in the Kickoff Classic this year, while Clemson just had a nine-game winning streak (fourth longest in the nation at the time) stopped by an upset-minded Duke team.

Both clubs have been led by fine head coaches. George Welsh, who made Navy a winner in the seventies, has a career record of 44-38-2 at Virginia and needs just four wins to become the Cavaliers' all-time winningest coach on a total wins basis. Under his guidance, Virginia has won 19 of its last 29, but two of the losses are to Clemson.

Clemson's Danny Ford has a 90-28-4 overall record and is fourth among winningest active coaches in America with a .754 winning percentage. Clemson has a 32-7-2 record over the last four years, the fifth-winningest program in the country for that time period. Ford is the ACC's winningest coach on a percentage basis and is second to Frank Howard in total wins. Howard had 165 in his distinguished 30-year career.

Allen-Wilson Some Defensive Backs

Terry Allen and Marcus Wilson are both in the top three in the ACC in rushing and hold the top spot on their respective teams. Allen has averaged 111 yards per game so far this season and has scored at least one touchdown in nine straight games. Wilson has averaged 100.6 yards rushing per game and has 503 yards on just 99 attempts.

Both are red-shirt juniors and both were thought to be prime candidates for the defensive side of the ball when they entered school. Allen was not a highly-recruited player out of Commerce, GA and most felt he would be a tough hitting safety when he came to Clemson. But, Tiger coaches promised him a shot at tailback when he got here. Thank goodness Danny Ford lived up to his end of the bargain, because Allen is on the precipice of becoming Clemson's career rushing leader.

Wilson was recruited as a defensive back in 1986 and, unlike Allen, has actually performed in a game in the secondary. In 1986 he played in the secondary against Duke and made one tackle in eight plays. He had his appendix taken out and was through for the season. Now he has over 1600 career rushing yards and 10 touchdowns.

Clemson-Virginia Series

Clemson has never lost to Virginia in the sport of football, as Clemson has a 28-0 advantage in the series dating back to a 20-7 Tiger win in 1955. Fifteen of the victories have taken place at Clemson and 13 at Virginia. Clemson's 28 straight wins over Virginia represent the longest active winning streak of one Division 1-A team over another in the nation.

There have been many close games in the series, including recent years. Last season Clemson scored on a Rodney Williams to Chip Davis 14-yard touchdown with just 1:52 to play in the game in a 10-7 Tiger victory at Charlottesville. Virginia had taken a 7-3 lead with 5:27 to go on a 14-yard pass from Shawn Moore to send the home fans into hysterics.

In 1985 Clemson earned a three-point win with a 27-24 score, and in 1980 Obed Ariri booted a 52-yard field goal with six seconds left to culminate a furious Clemson comeback. Clemson trailed 24-10 heading into the fourth quarter. It represents the largest fourth-quarter deficit overcome to gain victory in Clemson football history.

Thus Clemson has earned three wins by three points this decade and has nine wins by seven points or less in the history of the series. Virginia has led at the end of the first period five times, the half eight times and led heading into the fourth quarter on five occasions.

Gardocki Mr. Consistency

Has any kicker in America shown more all-around dexterity and consistency than Clemson kicker Chris Gardocki. The sophomore from Stone Mountain, GA has averaged 42.7 yards a punt and has booted nine field goals in 10 attempts, including an outstanding five of six from 40 to 49 yards. He is currently eighth in the nation in punting and 12th in field goals per game.

Additionally, Gardocki never seems to have a bad game. He now has a streak of seven straight games in which he has averaged at least 40 yards a punt and kicked a field goal in the same game. He has made 14 of 16 field goals during this time and has had a punting average of 43.8.

Gardocki has already established a Clemson record for consecutive multiple field goal games (seven). He is now approaching the record for consecutive 40-yard punting games. With his streak at seven he needs just three more in a row to tie Dale Hatcher's record of 10 in a row set in 1984. Hatcher averaged at least 40 yards a punt in each of the first 10 games that season. David Sims had an eight-game streak in 1979 and Gardocki's current figure is now third best.

Virginia Scouting Report

Clemson will have its hands full defensively this afternoon when the Tigers take on Virginia in Memorial Stadium. The Cavalier quarterback is third in the nation in passing efficiency this week. So far this season Shawn Moore has connected on 60 of 100 passes for 914 yards and eight touchdowns. The native of Martinsville, VA also has 179 yards rushing and has scored four touchdowns, giving him 218.6 yards per game in terms of total offense, the 25th best figure in the nation on a per game basis.

An exceptionally mobile signal caller, Moore has been sacked just three times all season. In other words, Virginia's offensive line has allowed Moore to be sacked about three percent of the time. That might be the key to this game for Clemson defensively, containment and pressure on Moore. The Tigers sacked Duke just once in 43 pass attempts last Saturday.

Bruce McGonnigal is the top target for Moore in most situations. He has 18 receptions for 304 yards and a pair of touchdowns. He had a world-class game against Georgia Tech this year with six receptions for 157 yards. High jumper Herman Moore is one of the most exciting players in the country. The 6-5 receiver won the high jump competition at the 1988 ACC Indoor track meet and he uses that leaping ability to pull in touchdowns at an alarming rate. He pulled it off against Clemson last year, and shocked Penn State with a pair of leaping touchdown catches this year in the Cavs' 14-6 win at Penn State.

Marcus Wilson is the top rusher on the team with 503 yards in 99 attempts, but he has scored just one touchdown. He has added 10 receptions for 78 yards, but did receive an injury against William & Mary and his status for the Clemson game is up in the air. Terry Kirby, a first-year freshman from Virginia that every school in the country coveted as a high school senior, has three touchdowns and 194 yards on 52 attempts so far this season.

Defensively, Virginia gave up 36 points to Notre Dame in the opener, but since then the Cavs have been outstanding. Duke scored 28 points, but many were after the horse had left the barn. The leading tackler is inside linebacker Phil Thomas, who has 33 stops and three sacks in 213 plays this season. Thomas had three tackles for loss against Duke and 11 unassisted stops for the game.

Defensive end Donald Reynolds is second on the team with 31 tackles in five games and was a major reason Blair Thomas and Penn State did not get into the endzone in Virginia's 14-6 win over Penn State in the second game of the season. Tyrone Lewis is third on the club with 29 tackles and he is tied for the team lead in tackles for loss with three.

In the secondary, Keith McMeans and Kevin Cook are veteran players who were both in the top five in the nation in interceptions in 1987. In fact, McMeans led the entire nation with nine thefts that season. Cook is the player leading the team this year, however, as the starting safety has two.

Famous Sons

Virginia has five sons of famous fathers on its football team this season. The list includes linebacker Yusef Jackson, the son of former presidential candidate Rev. Jesse Jackson, wide receiver Derrick Dooley, the son of former Georgia football coach Vince Dooley, defensive back Scott Griesse, son of Miami Dolphin Hall of Famer and now ABC sports commentator Bob Griesse, defensive end Ricky Peete, son of current senior's tour professional golfer Calvin Peete, and offensive lineman Billy Curry, son of current Alabama football coach Bill Curry.

Jackson has seen the most action among the famous sons as he has started a game and has registered 18 tackles. He started the Penn State game. Griesse is the leader of the special teams, while Dooley has one catch for six yards, and had a reception against Clemson a year ago.

Allen Countdown Continues

Clemson running back Terry Allen now has just one mountain to climb in terms of the career rushing chart at Clemson. The junior from Commerce, GA has 444 yards rushing this season and now has 2609 for his career. He went ahead of Ray Yauger at Duke with 143 yards in a career high 32 attempts. Kenny Flowers is the only man left ahead of him and three average games (average for this year) will put him over the top. Flowers had 2914 between 1983 and 1986, so Allen needs just 306 yards to become Clemson's all-time leading rusher.

In terms of all-purpose rushing, Allen is currently in fifth place with 2932, thanks in part to a 160-yard effort against Duke. (All-purpose rushing is the summation of rushing, receiving, kickoff returns and punt returns and is intended to show a player's all-around abilities.) Allen will move ahead of Ray Yauger against Virginia as the Tiger of the late sixties had 2944 all-purpose yards. Then, just Buddy Gore (3273), Kenny Flowers (3146) and Ray Mathews (3128) will be ahead of him.

Allen can establish another Clemson record against Virginia if he scores a touchdown. Allen has scored at least one touchdown in nine straight games over two seasons, tying the record held by Lester Brown, who had nine in 1978. Brown scored 17 touchdowns that season, still a Clemson record. Allen had two scores at Duke and has not been kept out of the endzone since the N.C. State game of last season.

McFadden Outstanding Blocker

Clemson fullback Wesley McFadden is not the prototype 230-pound fullback. He is far from it at 203 pounds. But, the native of Chester, SC who worked for Dow Chemical this past summer, has 54 knockdown blocks to lead the team. He had 65 last year when he was the second-team fullback and that total led all returning players. He has not let anyone down with his blocking this year and is a reason Terry Allen is off to a great start. Last week at Duke, McFadden established a new knockdown record with 19, breaking the mark of 18 held by Jeff McCall against Duke in 1982, and by John Phillips against Virginia Tech in 1987. McFadden had 16 against Florida State and has had under six knockdowns just once in the last 11 games.

Tiger Pro Players

By Eric Young

Jeff Bostic

Position: Center
Years at Clemson: 1977-79
Pro Career: Washington Redskins
 1980 - present

The 1988 season was a year of ups and downs for 10th-year pro Jeff Bostic. Bostic found himself being shuffled in and out of the lineup as the Redskins attempted to add more size to their offensive line. Washington soon realized though, that they couldn't replace Bostic's intelligence and determination and he soon returned to the starting rotation. In the season finale, Bostic tore the medial collateral ligament in his left knee and underwent rehabilitation. He did return to the starting lineup for this year. One of the original "Hogs," Bostic owns a pair of Super Bowl rings, and was a starter in the 1982, '83, and '87 Super Bowls. He also earned All-Pro honors in 1983. At Clemson, Bostic helped the Tigers to three consecutive bowl appearances and was an All-ACC selection as a senior.

Joe Bostic

Position: Offensive Guard
Years at Clemson: 1975-78
Pro Career: Phoenix Cardinals
 1979 - present

Joe Bostic is now in his 12th season with the Phoenix Cardinals. A third-round selection of the Cardinals in 1979, Bostic had been one of the most durable offensive linemen in the game. At one point in his career, Bostic started 45 consecutive games before sustaining a knee injury in 1986. This year he sustained a knee injury and will be on injured reserve for the remainder of the season. The 1979 All-Rookie team choice is a veteran of over 100 NFL games. While at Clemson, Bostic was a driving force on Clemson's 1977 and 1978 Gator Bowl teams, and was also an All-ACC and All-America selection each of those two years.

Delton Hall made the NFL All-Rookie team in 1987.

Jeff Bryant

Position: Defensive Tackle
Years at Clemson: 1978-81
Pro Career: Seattle Seahawks
 1982 - present

Jeff Bryant has played 97-of-101 games for Seattle (starting his first 67) since he was the number-six choice of the 1982 NFL draft. Ranking second among defensive linemen in Seattle history with 416 career tackles and second in career sacks with 45.5, Bryant was credited with 64 tackles and three-and-a-half sacks in 1988. He is currently ninth in career sacks among active AFC players. Bryant was a defensive leader on the 1981 National Championship team for Clemson, and he earned All-ACC and second-team All-America honors that year. Bryant was named to Clemson's All-Time Team in 1984.

Terrence Flagler

Position: Running Back
Years at Clemson: 1982-86
Pro Career: San Francisco 49ers
 1987 - present

Terrence Flagler, the 25th pick of the 1987 draft, has had his brief career in the NFL marred by injuries. In the 1989 preseason though, Flagler has shown glimpses of the brilliance that made him a Football Writers Association first-team All-American, as well as a first-team All-ACC selection here at Clemson. He had two 100-yard games in the 1989 preseason and also had a 90-yard kickoff return against Denver. He is currently Roger Craig's backup and returns kickoffs. In his 1986 campaign for Clemson, while stepping in for the injured Kenny Flowers, Flagler set 11 school records, including one for his 274 all-purpose yards against Wake Forest. Flagler also broke Flowers' single season rushing record with 1,258 yards and his 6.6 yards per carry average was third in the nation.

Kenny Flowers

Position: Running Back
Years at Clemson: 1983-86
Pro Career: Atlanta Falcons
 1987 - present

Kenny Flowers currently holds Clemson's career rushing record with 2,914 yards, despite the fact that he sustained knee and ankle injuries in his senior season. The native of Florida started during 1987, but sat out 1988 due to a knee injury. As a junior in 1985, Flowers was selected first-team All-ACC as he set a Clemson single season rushing record with 1,200 yards. In 1984, he was a Strength All-American. The Atlanta Falcons selected Flowers in the second round of the 1987 draft, making him the 31st player taken overall.

Delton Hall

Position: Cornerback
Years at Clemson: 1983-86
Pro Career: Pittsburgh Steelers
 1987 - present

After capturing Pittsburgh Steelers Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1987, Delton Hall battled through an injury-plagued second season. He scored two touchdowns that year, one on a fumble return and one on an interception. Hall started nine games that season and seven in 1988. The Steelers second-round draft pick in 1987, Hall has gained a reputation as a tough, intimidating, and extremely physical player. In his senior season at Clemson, he was first-team All-ACC and an AP honorable-mention All-American. Hall led the ACC that year in passes broken up with 14 and also led Clemson in interceptions with five.

Dale Hatcher

Position: Punter
Years at Clemson: 1981-84
Pro Career: Los Angeles Rams
 1985 - present

Dale Hatcher made an immediate impact on the NFL in 1985 by leading the entire league in net punting. As a result, he was an All-Pro selection and punted for the NFC in the Pro Bowl. Now in his fifth season with the Rams, Hatcher is currently eighth among active NFC punters in career punting average with a 40.8 figure. The Cheraw, S.C. native is Clemson's all-time punting leader and started on the 1981 National Championship team in his freshman season. Of his 191 career punts, only 59 were returned, those resulting in a mere 2.5 yards per return. Hatcher earned second-team All-American in 1984.

Donald Igwebuike

Position: Placekicker
Years at Clemson: 1981-84
Pro Career: Tampa Bay Bucs
 1985 - present

Tampa Bay's all-time leading scorer in only his fifth season with the team, Donald Igwebuike has never missed a field goal under 35 yards in his career. This former Tiger had a streak of 40 consecutive extra points (Buc record) broken this season, and had several heroic last second field goals for Tampa Bay last year. Under 40 yards, Igwebuike is 49 of 53, an astonishing 93 percent. He is 14th in scoring among active NFL scorers. An All-America and All-ACC selection for the Tigers in 1984 (when he kicked 16 of 17 field goals), Igwebuike was a perfect 43-43 on PATs during his career at Clemson.

Flagler and Riggs were teammates for five years at Clemson then played against each other in the 1989 Super Bowl.

Tracy Johnson

Position: Fullback
Years at Clemson: 1985-88
Pro Career: Houston Oilers, 1989

Tracy Johnson was a 10th-round draft pick last April and scored a touchdown in his first preseason game. He ended his collegiate career tied for sixth on Clemson's career touchdown list with 23. One of the toughest short yardage men in the country last year, Johnson converted on 51 of 58 during his career. Although hampered by an ankle injury throughout last season, Johnson was still Clemson's third leading rusher for his third consecutive year and was also a participant in the Japan Bowl in January.

Terry Kinard

Position: Free Safety
Years at Clemson: 1978-82
Pro Career: New York Giants
 1983 - present

Terry Kinard, now in his seventh season with the New York Giants, made his first appearance in the Pro Bowl last season and came through with an interception for the NFC squad. Kinard led New York's secondary last season in total tackles with 85 and also came up with three interceptions to move into seventh place on the all-time Giants' list. He is 11th among active NFC players in career interceptions. At Clemson, Kinard became the only two-time Consensus All-American in school history, in addition to being Clemson's first unanimous All-American. He participated in the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games and was MVP in the latter. Kinard closed out his illustrious collegiate career by being named National Defensive Player-of-the-Year by CBS Sports.

Treadwell won many games with late field goals, earned a degree in engineering and is now starting placekicker for the Denver Broncos.

Kevin Mack

Position: Running Back
Years at Clemson: 1980-83
Pro Career: Cleveland Browns
 1985 - present

Kevin Mack is now in his fifth season with the Cleveland Browns, after beginning his professional career with the L.A. Express of the now defunct USFL. In 1988, Mack recorded both of the Browns' individual 100-yard rushing games, despite rushing all or part of 10 games with a combination of injuries (knee, calf, neck, and shoulder). Mack, a two-time Pro Bowler, won AFC Offensive Rookie-of-the-Year honors in 1985, after shattering Jim Brown's Cleveland rookie rushing mark, amassing 1,104 yards. He has 2,989 career yards, ninth among active AFC players. A member of the 1981 National Championship team, Mack led all ACC fullbacks in rushing as a senior in 1983 and was an all-conference selection.

Richard McCullough

Position: Defensive End
Years at Clemson: 1985-88
Pro Career: Denver Broncos, 1989

Now a reserve in his rookie season with the Denver Broncos, Richard McCullough was a fourth round pick last April and is hoping to make his mark on the NFL this season. A second-team All-ACC selection, as well as an AP honorable-mention All-American in 1988 for the Tigers, McCullough had 62 tackles, including six for losses. McCullough started 11 games for Clemson in 1988, including the Citrus Bowl, when he had six tackles.

Rod McSwain

Position: Cornerback
Years at Clemson: 1980-83
Pro Career: New England Patriots
 1984 - present

Rod McSwain is in his sixth year with the New England Patriots, and in 1988, started his first game for the organization, recording four tackles in that game. In 1987, McSwain was named special teams Player-of-the-Year as he had 15 solo tackles on special teams. An All-ACC selection and AP honorable mention All-American at Clemson in 1983, McSwain was originally drafted by the Atlanta Falcons in the third round. The native of Caroleen, N.C. was also a member of the 1981 National Championship team, playing wide receiver and defensive back.

Michael Dean Perry

Position: Defensive Tackle
Years at Clemson: 1984-87
Pro Career: Cleveland Browns
 1988 - present

Michael Dean Perry's dynamic rookie campaign with the Cleveland Browns landed him a berth on virtually every All-Rookie team. Perry tied for the team lead in sacks, recording six, and had 25 tackles (20 solo). His impressive play led to increased playing time as the season progressed, and Perry started the final two games and the Wild Card game. Perry broke his brother's ACC record for career sacks while at Clemson and he also established an ACC career record for tackles for loss. A first-team All-American and Outland Trophy finalist for the Tigers in 1987, he was also an All-ACC selection in 1986 and 1987.

Flowers hopes to come back from knee surgery.

Clemson's Alumni Center Isn't What It Used To Be... It's Better!

We've remodeled, and we're open before and after each home football game. Our new look is comfortable, updated and available for your enjoyment.

We also have a new mobile Alumni Center. Our Alumni Association van is your Alumni "on the road" headquarters. You'll find the van at away football games, Clemson Club meetings and near the football stadium at home games. The van brings Clemson to you wherever you are.

We may look different, but we're still dedicated to serving, informing and involving you in the ongoing life of Clemson University.

We look different . . . both on campus and on the road . . . and we're looking for you.

Dr. Max Lennon

When Max Lennon came to Clemson more than three years ago, he brought with him some definite ideas about what was needed in order for Clemson to reach its potential: more emphasis on research and the graduate program (the university's greatest potential for growth and immediate economic impact); increased private support for academics; more effort in frontier areas of research to aid South Carolina's traditional industries; a more global perspective in both academic programs and research; and a significant state investment in higher education.

Those were the ideas; now for the reality:

- more than a 60 percent increase in research funding in a single year
- the most successful private fundraising year ever, with more than a 40 percent increase over last year's record-breaking total
- a landmark experiment in the field of biotechnology, plus research that is breaking new ground in advanced apparel manufacturing, composites, robotics and many other areas
- the addition of international academic programs and research partnerships involving Clemson with institutions in Japan, France, Germany, Italy, Egypt, China, Israel and Great Britain, among others
- a $5-million higher education initiative called the Cutting Edge

But the Lennon agenda is far from completed. The Clemson president sees more challenges, more opportunities, ahead. At a recent address to the faculty, he said, "We must continue to look for new ways to fulfill Clemson's land-grant mission: aggressively recruiting students into areas that are exclusive to Clemson — agriculture, forestry and textiles — and that have more job opportunities than graduates, increasing minority representation in the faculty and administration as well as the student body, and making Clemson more accessible.

"As a land grant college, we have an obligation in rural development and to help eliminate the pockets of poverty and illiteracy that remain in this state. Education is the answer, and we have an obligation to make education accessible to all people."

Lennon sees Clemson as still in the process of maturing into a major, comprehensive university with a regional and national reputation in its primary mission areas — science and technology. He has worked hard to bring together the necessary support system by involving not only faculty and staff but also legislators, business leaders and alumni in determining Clemson's future. And the future looks pretty bright. "Clemson is a very exciting place to be right now," he says.

Lennon came to Clemson from Ohio State University, where he had been executive dean for agriculture, home economics and natural resources. Lennon was also on the Ohio State Faculty Senate and was co-chairman of the Governor's commission on agriculture.

Previously, he had served as dean of the College of Agriculture, and as director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Missouri, and as associate dean and director of research in the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University.

Lennon is a native of Columbus County, N.C., and earned his bachelor's degree and doctorate from N.C. State University. He began his teaching career at N.C. State.

The Clemson president has been active in a number of civic and professional groups, ranging from his local PTA and the South Carolina Research Authority to the National Dropout Prevention Fund and the International Development Institute.

In the fall of 1987, Lennon was named to the board of trustees of the Farm Foundation, a national organization devoted to improving research and education to benefit rural areas. He will serve a four-year term as the university representative on the board, which also includes farmers, legislators and executives of leading agricultural industries.

Lennon was appointed in 1988 to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Policy Advisory Committee for Science and Education Research Grants Program by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng, and was a keynote speaker at the AgBiotech '88 international conference in Washington.

This year Lennon also was appointed to chair a committee of top administrators and federal officials from 11 universities across the nation to work with congress on legislation relating to foreign assistance and international development. The committee is a project of the National Association of State Universities and land-grant colleges.

Lennon is married to Ruth Carter Lennon and they have two children, Daniel Ray (27) and Robin (24).

Dr. Max Lennon made outstanding contributions at N.C. State, Texas Tech, Missouri and Ohio State before becoming Clemson's president in 1986.

Bobby Robinson

The Clemson athletic program has been on the rise in just about all forms of athletics in recent years. Bobby Robinson is the leader of the department as its athletic director and his commitment to success in competition, academics and facilities has been the key to this level of distinction.

An examination of the chart on this page shows that Clemson has made a steady rise in the national men's all-sports poll since he took over for the 1985-86 academic year. Last year Clemson finished sixth in the USA Today All-Sports poll, its highest ranking in six years and the second straight year Clemson has finished in the top 10 in the nation. The number of Clemson All-ACC performers and All-Americans also reached all-time highs.

Both major revenue sports had banner years with the football team winning a third straight bowl and finishing in the top 10 in the nation. Danny Ford's gridders also won a third straight ACC title. The men's basketball team went to its second NCAA tournament in the last three years, and it marked the first time in Clemson history the Tigers took part in a January 1 Bowl game and the NCAA basketball tournament.

The baseball team also advanced to the NCAA regional finals, meaning Clemson was one of just three teams in the nation to win a bowl game, an NCAA tournament basketball game and an NCAA baseball tournament game. A total of nine teams, highlighted by a number-three finish for the Clemson golf team, finished in the top 20 of their respective polls. This is a total topped only by the 1986-87 and 1987-88 academic years, two other years in the Robinson era.

In academics, Clemson student-athletes had another outstanding year. Seventy-five young men and women had 3.0 or better grade-point averages each semester, with seven earning a perfect 4.0 GPA. The football team had three players named to the academic All-ACC team, and two students were named to Academic All-America teams. Over 30 former Tiger student-athletes received college degrees in the past 12 months.

The commitment to success in academics is further confirmed by the decision to build an academic learning center for student-athletes. Encompassing over Bobby Robinson is in his fifth full academic year as Clemson Athletic Director.

29,000 square feet, the center will feature classrooms, learning labs, and an auditorium, as well as office space for the academic advising staff, which now has four full-time staff members. It should be completed at a cost of $2.5 million by the fall of 1990.

In the area of facilities, Robinson has a record of success and accomplishments second to none. Recent capital improvements include the indoor tennis facility and the soccer stadium, with the learning center and completion of the baseball stadium coming soon. Major renovations recently completed include the golf practice area, cross country trail, stadium locker rooms, wrestling practice room, football coaches meeting rooms and renovation of the football athletic dorm. A complete maintenance and irrigation system has also been implemented for all practice fields.

Renovations recently concluded include the new IPTAY/ticket complex at Gate 9 at the football stadium, a nine-lane all-weather track, Jervy Center offices and gymnasium. Without a doubt, Clemson athletic facilities are among the finest in the country.

Administratively, Robinson has instituted policies and procedures that benefit all constituents. Among the changes are the drug testing program, the Student Athlete Assistance Program (SAAP), a staff Policies and Procedures Manual, computerization of the department, the pro agents seminar, as well as the athletic academic scholarship endowment.

From a university perspective, Robinson envisions the athletic department as being one of 49 campus departments, serving a viable role to the mission of Clemson University. "Athletic competition provides a common bond for students, faculty, staff, and friends," according to Robinson.

Under the direction of Robinson, the athletic department continues to support the university. Over $1 million have been contributed to the athletic academic scholarship fund; and band travel equipment and uniforms are funded by athletic dollars. An educational enhancement fund has been coordinated through the efforts of the athletic department and the Athletic Council.

With Robinson's qualifications, it is easy to see why the Clemson athletic program enjoys continued success — he has done it all. He has been an administrator at all levels, he has worked in other areas of the university. Robinson has been a head coach and he has handled the budgetary aspects needed to run a $12 million program.

Robinson graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman.

Robinson came to Clemson in 1970, not in athletics, but in the housing office. After three years, he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department.

After serving the athletic department in various capacities, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director, and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title for five years, and his area of responsibility moved to primarily football and basketball. The native of Columbia became Athletic Director in March of 1985.

While serving his administrative duties, Robinson found time to coach the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach, Clemson won its first ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five finish. Robinson is a member of the NCAA golf committee and is a member of the CFA Board of Directors.

Danny Ford

The list of winningest active coaches in college football contains only the very best from the world of coaching. Last year, a new name appeared in the top five of that elite list. Clemson's Danny Ford has moved into fourth place on the list of winningest active coaches in the college ranks on a percentage basis.

Not only has Ford become one of the top coaches in the nation, but on the way to this accomplishment, he has defeated each of the top three as listed at the conclusion of the 1988 season. In only 10 full seasons, Ford has posted wins over Nebraska's Tom Osborne, Penn State's Joe Paterno, and former Oklahoma coach Barry Switzer, the fourth winningest coach in the history of college football. The wins over Paterno and Switzer came after two of the winningest seasons in Clemson history, as the Tigers went 10-2 in 1987 and 1988. The win over Osborne's Nebraska team came on the heels of the only 12-0 season and national championship in the history of Clemson football.

Last year's Citrus Bowl victory over Oklahoma marked Ford's seventh bowl trip in only 10 full years as head coach and his fifth bowl victory in those seven trips. All 10 years as head coach, his teams have had winning regular season records. Clemson has won 80 percent of its games over the last three years and has been in the top 20 for 34 straight polls. Ford has already tied former Clemson coach Frank Howard for the ACC record for sole championships with five and for most top 20 seasons by a Clemson coach with six.

Ford's winning tradition did not begin when he became a head coach, it has followed through his entire affiliation with the game of football. Overall, he has been involved with 21 winning regular seasons in his 22 years of football, and his teams have won over 75 percent of the time.

His success as a head coach is not only evident in his win-loss record, but also in a long list of accomplishments Ford has compiled in his first 10 years as a head coach. This list would be impressive with anyone's name on it, but considering the fact that Ford is only 41, it is phenomenal. His most significant accomplishment, winning the 1981 National Championship, was attained when he was only 33-years-old, making him the youngest coach in the history of the college game to win the Associated Press National Championship.

Not only has Ford moved into fourth place on the list of winningest active coaches, but he has recently reached another milestone. He is now the winningest coach in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference on a percentage basis. He is already second in total wins among ACC coaches and needs just 13 wins to break Clemson Hall of Famer Frank Howard's record. These wins have not been easy ones, instead they have come against fierce competition. Ford has already gained more wins over AP top 20 and top 10 teams than any other coach in Clemson history and is the only coach in conference history to have a winning record (15-11-1) versus top 20 teams (top 20 when playing Clemson, minimum 10 games played).

Ford has established a new era in football at Clemson University, creating one of the most solid programs in the nation. Now in his 11th full season with the Tigers, his record stood at 86-27-4 (.752) entering the season. Not only is Ford among the winningest active coaches, but Clemson also has the second best winning percentage in the South during this time period. Clemson is the only team in the nation to win a bowl game, a conference championship and finish in the top 20 of the AP poll each of the last three years. Clemson has the sixth best record (28-6-2) in the nation during this time period.

After examining Ford's football past, it is difficult to imagine him anything but a winner. Ford played tight end and offensive tackle for Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama between 1967 and 1969. Ford started all three years, was all-conference in 1969 and played on all three teams that went to bowl games. In 1969 he was a member of the All-SEC academic team, and served as captain of the Alabama squad. Ford also played freshman basketball at Alabama.

Ford earned a B.S. degree in industrial arts and a Master's Degree in special education from Alabama, working as a graduate assistant coach for Bryant and then as a full-time assistant in 1972 and 1973. From 1974 to 1976 he served as an assistant coach at Virginia Tech and joined the Clemson coaching staff in 1977 as an offensive line coach. He was named assistant head coach prior to the 1978 season. At the end of that season at the age of 30, Ford was named the Tigers' head coach, making him the youngest active Division I coach in the country.

Clemson's head coach has had five bowl wins, five ACC titles and six Top 20 seasons.

Danny Lee Ford was born on April 2, 1948 in Gadsden, AL and married Deborah Anderson of Attalla, AL on January 23, 1970. The couple has four children: Jennifer Renee (3/15/73); Ashleigh Lynn (8/13/75); Mary Elizabeth (4/24/81); and Daniel Lee (10/17/85).

FACTS ON FORD

1. Fourth winningest active coach in America on a percentage basis (86-27-4).
2. Only coach in ACC history with over a 70 percent winning percentage, he is currently at .752.
3. Has coached Clemson in seven bowl games, five have been victories.
4. Clemson has won five ACC titles during his tenure (81, 82, 86, 87, 88).
5. Has coached six teams that have finished in the final Top 20 of the AP poll (81, 82, 83, 86, 87, 88).
6. Has beaten 15 top 20 teams and won 26 games by seven points or less.
7. Has been to 15 bowls in 22 years associated with college football.
8. Has coached 60 All-ACC players, 24 All-Americans and 38 of his former players have been drafted by the NFL.
9. Eight of his former players own Super Bowl Championship rings.
10. Had a 3-0 record against the top three winningest active coaches (Barry Switzer, Tom Osborne and Joe Paterno) at the end of the 1988 season.

Ford is fourth among winningest active coaches on a percentage basis.

Assistant Coaches

MILES ALDRIDGE

Inside Linebackers

ALDRIDGE is entering his fifth season as the Tigers' inside linebacker coach. A native of Kansas City, MO, Aldridge joined the Clemson staff on June 28, 1985 after a two-year stint at Duke. The 1971 graduate of Gardner-Webb College earned three letters in football. He began coaching on the collegiate level at East Tennessee State (1973-77), then moved on to Wichita State (1978) and Tulsa (1979). He also spent three years at Mississippi (1980-82) before taking a position at Duke, where he spent two years (1983-84). The coach of the two leading tacklers returning from the 1988 squad (Ed McDaniel and Doug Brewster), Aldridge recruits the eastern section of South Carolina, Philadelphia and New Jersey.

WAYNE BOLT

Tight Ends & K/O Returns

BOLT joined the Clemson staff on March 10, 1986 and is entering his fourth season with the Tigers. A 1979 graduate of East Carolina, his responsibilities include coaching the tight ends and kickoff return teams. Bolt earned all-conference and All-America honors during his playing career as an offensive guard for East Carolina (1974-77). He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant for the Pirates, then spent a year at Wyoming (1980) before moving on to Auburn (1981-86). Bolt has coached four tight ends who have gone on to the NFL: Ed West (Green Bay Packers), Ron Middleton (Atlanta Falcons), Jeff Parks (Houston Oilers), and Jim Riggs (Cincinnati Bengals). During his first season as a Tiger coach, he coached All-

ACC tight end (Jim Riggs) and his kickoff return team led the nation in average return, just the second team statistical championship in Clemson history. His recruiting territory includes Georgia, Virginia, Washington, D.C., and Alabama.

BILL D'ANDREA

Offensive Tackles

D'ANDREA, who is entering the fourth year of his second stint with the Clemson program, is responsible for coaching the offensive tackles. D'Andrea, who is responsible for recruiting in North Carolina, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York, rejoined the Clemson staff on June 23, 1986 after spending two seasons at Southern Mississippi. Prior to that he was a graduate assistant coach at East Carolina (1974-75), a full-time assistant at the University of Virginia (1975), Massanutten Military Academy (1976-78) and Catawba College (1979-81). He also spent two years (1983-84) at Clemson as a graduate assistant, where he also served as football dorm director. D'Andrea received his bachelor's degree from Indiana State in 1973, completed his master's degree in 1975, and lacks only a few semester hours from completing a second master's degree. D'Andrea has coached an all-conference tackle each of the last two years and the Tigers have ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing each of the three seasons he has been a full-time coach.

LES HERRIN

Defensive Line

HERRIN is beginning his first season back with the Clemson football program after coaching at North Carolina (1988) and East Carolina (1985-87). Responsible for coaching the defensive line, Herrin was the Tiger inside linebacker coach from 1981 to 1984. Herrin's recruiting territory includes the state of South Carolina. Before coming to Clemson for the 1981 national championship season, Herrin also spent a year as the defensive coordinator at Appalachian State (1980). Herrin earned his bachelor's and master's degree from Western Carolina where he was a four-year letterman in football. During his first two years at Clemson, the Tigers ranked in the top 10 in scoring and rushing defense. Herrin also coached ACC MVP Jeff Davis, who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Bucs and 1989 All-Pro Johnny Remy of the New England Patriots.

WOODY MCCORVEY

Wide Receivers

McCORVEY is in his seventh year with the Tiger staff, and is responsible for coaching the wide receivers. For three years, the 1972 Alabama State graduate also coached tight ends, and for two of those seasons he coached an All-ACC tight end. A Grove Hill, AL native, his recruiting territory includes eastern North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida. McCorvey joined the Clemson staff on July 13, 1983 from Alabama A&M, where he spent four seasons (1979-82) as offensive coordinator. Prior to that position, he spent a year as the backfield coach at North Carolina Central (1978). McCorvey lettered four years at quarterback at Alabama State, where he earned his bachelor's degree, and then earned his master's from the University of West Florida in 1977. He has coached six receivers over his career who have been drafted or signed free agent contracts. As a player, he guided the Alabama A&M offense to top 20 rankings in total offense, passing offense, rushing offense, and scoring offense during his tenure there.

BILL OLIVER Secondary

OLIVER joined the Clemson staff on January 22, 1986 and is in his fourth year as the Tigers secondary coach. Oliver is also responsible for recruiting in Florida, Georgia and Alabama. Oliver came to Clemson from the USFL's Memphis Showboats, where he spent two years (1983-85) and served as senior defensive coordinator and secondary coach. He began his collegiate coaching career as the defensive secondary coach at Auburn (1966-71) and then spent nine years at his alma mater, Alabama, working under the late Paul "Bear" Bryant (1971-80). From 1980-83 he served as head coach at UT-Chattanooga before moving on to the professional ranks. Oliver was a member of the 1961 undefeated National Championship Alabama team, and he received his bachelor's degree in biology from Alabama in 1962. In each of his first two seasons at Clemson, the Tigers led the ACC in pass completion defense and fewest yards per attempt allowed. He has coached three Clemson players who have gone on to the NFL: Delton Hall (Pittsburgh Steelers), Donnell Woolford (Chicago Bears) and Perry Williams (New England Patriots).

CHUCK REEDY Running Backs

REEDY is in his 12th season as the Tigers' running back coach and is responsible for recruiting in South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, New England, and New York. The St. Augustine, FL native earned two letters in football from Appalachian State, where he was a 1971 graduate in health and physical education. He came to Clemson from Kentucky on July 5, 1978, where he spent one spring as a graduate assistant coach (1978). Seven of Clemson's top 10 single season individual rushing performances have taken place under Reedy and Clemson has ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing five of the last six years. Additionally, he has coached nine Clemson players who have gone on to the NFL: Cliff Austin (New Orleans Saints), Stacey Driver (Cleveland Browns), Terrence Flagler (San Francisco 49ers), Kenny Flowers (Atlanta Falcons), Steve Griffin (Atlanta Falcons), Kevin Mack (Cleveland Browns), Jeff McCall (L.A. Raiders), Chuck McSwain (Dallas Cowboys), Marvin Sims (Baltimore Colts); additionally, Lester Brown played eight years in Canada, and Tracy Johnson was drafted by Houston in 1989.

RICK STOCKSTILL Quarterbacks

STOCKSTILL is in his first season with the Tigers after joining the Clemson coaching staff on February 20, 1989. Stockstill came to Clemson from the University of Central Florida, where he spent four years as assistant head coach and wide receiver coach (1985-89). Stockstill's responsibilities at Clemson include coaching the Tiger quarterbacks and acting as the football dorm director. Previous to his stay at Central Florida, Stockstill spent two seasons as offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Bethune-Cookman (1983-84). The Sidney, OH native earned three letters in football from Florida State University, where he quarterbacked the Seminoles to consecutive Orange Bowl appearances after the 1979 and 1980 seasons. Stockstill was also a 1980 and 1981 All-Southern Independent and All-Metro Conference performer for FSU. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Florida State in 1982.

LARRY VAN DER HEYDEN Offensive Line

VAN DER HEYDEN joined the Clemson staff on January 5, 1979 and coaches the offensive line. A native of Brazil, Iowa, Van Der Heyden recruits upper South Carolina, North Carolina, and western Pennsylvania. He came to Clemson after coaching at Memphis State (1975-78), where he served as offensive coordinator, Virginia (1974-75), East Carolina (1973-74), Indiana State (1969-73), and Drake University (1968-69). Van der Heyden coached the defensive line at his alma mater, Iowa State, from 1965 to 1967, and served as a graduate assistant coach there in 1964. He is a member of the all-time Iowa State team selected by former players and coaches. He earned three letters in both football and baseball from Iowa State and received a bachelor's degree in physical education (1962) and a master's degree in education (1968) from the same institution. He has coached three All-America guards over the last six years at Clemson and for a five-year period (1983-87), one of his guards was chosen All-ACC.

TOMMY WEST Outside Linebackers & Bandits

WEST is in his eighth season coaching the Clemson outside linebackers and bandit ends. His recruiting territory includes Florida and Georgia, and he also follows junior college athletes across the country. Prior to his arrival at Clemson, West coached at Appalachian State for two seasons and spent a year as an assistant coach at Mississippi (1979). West earned three letters in football and baseball at Tennessee (1973-75) and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Bucs in 1976 as a linebacker. He earned a B.S. degree in health education from Tennessee in 1975. West has coached two all-conference bandit ends, including Super Bowl Champion Andy Headen of the NY Giants.

Clemson Coaches

Clemson's 1988-89 sports program was ranked in the top 10 in the nation for the second consecutive year and the seventh time in the last 11 years as the Tiger program compiled 61 points in the USA Today national sports poll released last July. Clemson's football team had a lot to do with that figure with its number-nine final AP ranking, but eight other sports at Clemson also ranked in the top 20 last season.

Clemson was one of just eight teams in the nation to play in a bowl game, the NCAA basketball tournament and the NCAA baseball tournament for the 1988-89 academic year and was one of only three schools to gain at least one win in each postseason event. Clemson tied the ACC record for overall conference championships last year with seven. The Clemson football, baseball, men's outdoor track, men's Indoor Track, men's cross country, men's tennis and women's swimming teams all won ACC titles. The Tigers boasted 65 first-team All-ACC players last year, a new school record, and tied the Clemson record for All-Americans with 26. Clemson also had nine top 20 teams last year, one off the school record of 10.

ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors went to Bob Pollock (men's cross country, men's indoor track, men's outdoor track), Wayne Coffman (women's indoor track), Chuck Kriese (men's tennis), and Bob Boettner (women's swimming).

Clemson Memorial Stadium

Just before Jess Neely left for Rice University, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need."

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing — there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron moved on to be a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the building of the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete was being poured. The story claims the tobacco is still there.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid the sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through. I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more weeks' pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through.

"After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 and we played at 2:00." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled — the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to approximately 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his

P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later, the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Athletic Director Bobby Robinson says that Memorial Stadium has many features which make it a top facility. "One thing that makes it so good is the number of sideline seats," he says. "We don't think there is a bad seat in the house.

"We also have outstanding dressing rooms, press facilities, and ample parking nearby. A unique feature of the stadium is the number of private boxes."

Rick Brewer, an official in the University athletic ticket office says that despite the stadium's large size, there are still season ticket problems. "When the second upper deck was built, we thought it would take care of everything," he said. "To our dismay, it hasn't. We've filled the upper decks and have moved season ticket holders into the end zone, which are not permanent seats."

Despite the apparent ticket crunch, Robinson says there are no immediate plans to further expand the stadium. "Before we expand we'll have to show over an extended length of time — like five to seven years — that we can sell out what we have now," he said. "We don't want supply to greatly exceed demand. Even though it's hard to get tickets now, we still get people in our stadium. The ticket means more if it's harder to get."

But, if Memorial Stadium is expanded again and capacity is pushed close to 100,000, there will be room for the construction over the west stands, enclosing that end like a horseshoe.

Clemson Memorial Stadium has over 100 luxury boxes, more than any other on-campus facility in the nation. Clemson's message board keeps fans up to date with other scores and stats, and also projects player's pictures after an outstanding play.

William Perry

Position: Middle Guard
Years at Clemson: 1981-84
Pro Career: Chicago Bears
1985 - present

A household name after his highly publicized NFL rookie season, William "Refrigerator" Perry is now trying to come back from a broken arm in 1988. The heaviest NFL player ever to score a touchdown on a set play, Perry was named to the All-Rookie team in 1985. The gimmick plays aside though, the "Fridge" played an important part on Chicago's defense, which helped the Bears win the Super Bowl title in Perry's initial season. While at Clemson, Perry was a three-time All-ACC selection, an Outland and Lombardi Trophy finalist, and conference Player-of-the-Year as a senior in 1984.

Reggie Pleasant

Position: Cornerback
Years at Clemson: 1981-84
Pro Career: Atlanta Falcons, 1985
Toronto Argonauts
(CFL), 1987 - present

Reggie Pleasant is now in his third year with the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League. While leading his team the past two seasons in interceptions, Pleasant's consistent play resulted in his selection to the All-East and All-Canadian All-Star teams. He had 16 interceptions over the last two years. Pleasant came to Clemson as a walk-on, but soon worked his way into the starting lineup. In his senior season, he tallied 56 tackles, two interceptions, and broke up 14 passes.

Johnny Rembert

Position: Linebacker
Years at Clemson: 1981-82
Pro Career: New England Patriots
1983 - present

This former Clemson standout made the most of his first year as a starter, earning himself a starting position in the Pro Bowl. He was also chosen to the All-NFL team by Sports Illustrated. Rembert was second on the Patriots in tackles last season with 137 and led the team in solo tackles with 98. He was named AFC Defensive Player-of-the-Week for his 12-tackle performance against the Dolphins. While at Clemson, Rembert was a third-team All-American in 1982, when he was the second leading tackler for the Tigers behind All-America free safety Terry Kinard. He also set a Clemson record that year for interceptions by a linebacker with six.

Jim Riggs

Position: Tight End
Years at Clemson: 1983-86
Pro Career: Cincinnati Bengals
1987 - present

Jim Riggs is now in his third year with the 1989 Super Bowl participant Cincinnati Bengals. Riggs saw his playing time steadily increase during the '88 season, in which he caught nine passes for 82 yards. Riggs played 46 straight games while at Clemson and was a 1984 Strength All-American. Riggs is also only one of two tight ends in Clemson history to be twice named All-ACC.

David Treadwell

Position: Placekicker
Years at Clemson: 1984-87
Pro Career: Denver Broncos
1988 - present

David Treadwell is in his rookie season with the Denver Broncos. In a Monday Night Football game against Buffalo, Treadwell connected on 4-4 field goals, helping the Broncos to a victory. Three weeks into the season he was leading the NFL in kick-scoring. In his senior season at Clemson, Treadwell was a first-team Kodak, AP, and UPI All-American, and was also a first-team All-ACC selection. Additionally, he earned Academic All-ACC honors as an electrical engineering major. The Clemson graduate scored 233 career points in his three seasons of play with the Tigers, second in Clemson history.

Perry Tuttle

Position: Wide Receiver
Years at Clemson: 1978-81
Pro Career: Buffalo Bills, 1982-83
Tampa Bay Bucs, 1984
Atlanta Falcons, 1984
Winnipeg Blue Bombers
(CFL) 1986 - present

Perry Tuttle is in his fourth season with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League. In 1989, Tuttle has caught 43 passes for 822 yards and five touchdowns. He broke two ribs on Sept. 23 and will be out until next week. He had over 80 catches in 1986 and 1987 for over 1,000 yards. He has two of the top five reception seasons in Winnipeg history. He was a first-team All-CFL receiver in 1987. Tuttle was an integral part of Clemson's drive to the National Championship in 1981 and was an All-American that same year. He was also All-ACC in 1980 and 1981 and still holds nine school records including most receptions in a career (150) and most career yards (2,534).

Donnell Woolford

Position: Cornerback
Years at Clemson: 1985-88
Pro Career: Chicago Bears, 1989

Now in his rookie season with the Chicago Bears, Donnell Woolford has already recorded his first interception in the NFL. He suffered a shoulder separation on the interception and has missed three games. This Tiger standout was the 11th player taken overall in last year's NFL draft. Woolford was a first-team All-American by the Sporting News, Kodak, and UPI. He was a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and led the ACC with 15 pass deflections.

Wesley McFadden

by Annabelle Vaughan

When the ACC Writers Tour made it's annual stop in Tigertown last August, one of the writers asked head coach Danny Ford what he thought about his starting fullback, Wesley McFadden. Ford's answer was straight and to the point. "Wesley McFadden is my favorite player," he said without hesitation.

This season, McFadden has done much to reinforce his head coach's opinion of him. During preseason workouts, Ford almost daily commended McFadden's leadership in practice. A trek out to the practice field would show the usually reticent McFadden vehemently urging the younger backs to do well. At the end of a hot, humid afternoon practice, he would be giving just as much effort as he had during the early morning workout.

The hard work in the preseason has definitely paid off for the Chester, SC native. After the Maryland game, McFadden ranked third on the team in rushing yardage, third in reception yardage, third in scoring and third in all-purpose running. In fact, heading into the Duke game, he lacked only 103 yards of reaching the 2,000-yard mark in all-purpose running for his career. He led the team in knockdown blocks against Florida State with an incredible total of 16, led in rushing yardage against Virginia Tech with 20 carries for 93 yards and was the top receiver against Maryland with three grabs for 34 yards.

But things have not always been so rosy for the 5-11, 203-pound fullback (and he has not always been a fullback either). After a successful rookie season as a second-team cornerback in 1985, McFadden was asked by his coaches to move over to the running back slot the next year and he was forced to red-shirt. "I was at rock bottom," McFadden remembers. "That had to be the lowest point of my life. I couldn't accept it at first. I thought that I could just work harder and somehow the coaches would change their minds.

"Finally I got to the point where I realized that I had done everything I could do. I knew I had done my best, so I accepted it. I know that it worked out for the best. Terry Allen was a red-shirt freshman that season and we both worked out with the first-team running backs for the whole year. I think we both learned things during that time that we couldn't have learned in another situation."

After the disappointment of his second year at Clemson, McFadden developed a creed that has helped him become the success that he is today. "I always say now that there is no such thing as a bad situation for Wesley McFadden. I may not have an answer right then, but sooner or later, I know that I will find a way to work through it. Knowing that has helped me be able to take things in stride and not worry about every problem that comes along."

In 1987, McFadden had everything but a bad situation. The tailback duo of McFadden and Allen was an impressive one. McFadden finished the season with 781 yards and had the third highest single game rushing total in Clemson history when he romped for 226 yards against Virginia Tech. For most of that season, either McFadden or Allen led the ACC in rushing yardage. It seemed that McFadden had found a home at tailback.

But two weeks into the 1988 preseason, McFadden moved to another home. When a neck injury to fullback Chris Lancaster ended his playing career, the Clemson coaches called upon old reliable to join Tracy Johnson at the fullback slot. "I learned after my red-shirt year to be prepared for anything, so I didn't let it bother me when the coaches decided to move me to fullback," says McFadden in his low, almost indiscernible voice. "Even though I am small for a fullback, I decided to use the things I have been blessed with. I use speed and quickness to set up blocks where Tracy Johnson would just use his strength. It all seems to work out." McFadden's speed and quickness have been anything but a detriment to his ability to block as he had 65 knockdown blocks in 1988, more than Johnson and more than any other player returning in 1989, including offensive linemen.

Despite his success at the fullback slot and his willingness to move there when he was asked, McFadden still does not enjoy it as much as playing tailback. "Playing fullback is something I will never like as much as tailback," he says with a hint of a smile, "but it does give me a great feeling. I get a lot of satisfaction and self-pride out of knowing that I'm playing a position that is not my favorite, but I'm doing my best and I'm good at it."

If McFadden is not enjoying himself, he does a great job of acting like he does. When he crossed the goalline for the first time versus Maryland, he ran to the fence and high-fived all the fans. He repeated his performance when he crossed the goalline the second time, exciting the fans so much that the fence caved in, spilling fans onto the field. "My number-one goal is to win," says McFadden. "We were winning that game and winning is fun so I had fun — more fun than I have ever had in a game. Whenever I score in practice, I run to the back of the endzone and start high-fiving the air. Hey, that's why it's called practice, right? I just wanted the fans to know that I appreciate them. We couldn't do what we do without them."

McFadden is constantly held forth as an example to younger players to follow by the Clemson coaches not only for his work habits on the field, but also for his habits in the classroom and in his attitude towards life. When asked what advice he wants his younger counterparts to know, he says, "I don't care who you are, at certain times, you have to humble yourself. Life is not always what you want it to be and sometimes you have to do things you don't like. You just have to learn to accept the hard times and make the most of them. To find happiness in yourself, you have to have a good attitude.

"I credit my attitude to my parents. They always gave me a sense of responsibility and taught me not to take anything for granted. I think one of the most important things about me is how much I love my Mom and Dad."

This positive attitude has won more praise from Danny Ford. "Anyone who works as hard as Wesley does is my favorite player," he says. "Wesley is one of the hardest workers I've ever seen. He tries to get better every time he walks onto the football field or into the classroom. He has never loafed. He doesn't take things for granted because he has always worked so hard for everything. I'm very proud of him."

Success for McFadden has not only come on the football field, he has also been successful in the classroom. A marketing major, McFadden has already begun to explore the options open to him when he graduates next May. He spent this past summer in Baton Rouge, LA, gaining valuable experience working with the Marine Division of Dow Chemical. His schedule is busy these days, as he tries to schedule job interviews in-between his hectic class and practice schedule. Whatever the future has in store, Wesley McFadden is ready. "I guess I just have the ability to adapt to things," he laughs. "Maybe its maturity, maybe its just me. I expect myself to do well, I make myself do well, so I guess I will do well. It's really not that complicated."

McFadden had 226 yards and scored two TDs at Virginia Tech in 1987, the third best single game rushing total in Clemson history.

We're Team Players.

Wherever Chem-Nuclear does business, our first priority is the safe management of low-level radioactive waste. But we also take pride in being good corporate citizens—home team players.

In Barnwell, S.C., our current southeastern location, we make a real contribution. We provide scholarships and equipment and support special programs in the county schools. We support state-wide programs for exceptional students. And youth recreation is as important to us as our donations to the arts.

We helped fund a drug testing program for the sheriff's office, and set aside land for a fire station. We bought camera equipment for the police department, and put new lights on their patrol cars.

We are coaches, tutors, and volunteer firemen. We're active with organizations from the United Way to the National Guard, from churches and environmental groups to the Chamber of Commerce.

We're proud of our community and our contributions. While our first responsibility is to protect our neighbors and the environment by safely disposing of low-level radioactive waste, we take to heart our obligation to help build a strong, prosperous community—to be good citizens.

In Barnwell, when people talk about the home team, they're talking about us.

Joe Henderson

by Mickey Plyler

"Sweetness!"

For 13 years Walter Payton earned that nickname by setting the all-time NFL rushing record with the Chicago Bears. Clemson fans have witnessed their version of "Sweetness" over the last three seasons in Joe Henderson.

You see, Henderson's father, Joe, Sr. has worked as a candy manufacturer for the last 23 years. Joe, Sr. works for a company that produces jelly beans, gummy bears, and red hots. Therefore, the same man who produces the sweetness of those candies, helped nurture the talents of Clemson's senior tailback and kick returner.

"My father is a big influence in my life. He spent a lot of time with me growing up and I think that has made a big difference in my character," Henderson says of his father, who played football at North Carolina A & T. "We would throw the football for hours at a time. When we were not playing in the yard, we would go see games together. He would take me to see a game almost every weekend. He was always there for me, in little league, high school, and now here at Clemson. He and my mother drive down about four or five times a year. They go to all of the games when we play in North Carolina, Virginia, and Maryland."

Henderson is fourth in Clemson history in all-time kickoff return yards and first in yards per return.

Actually, it was Tony Dorsett, not Payton, who Joe admired the most as a youngster. "Tony was a big reason why I started wearing number 33. He is a slashing runner who uses his quickness. When he was with Dallas they were always on television and I never missed a game," said the New Jersey native who has rushed for over 1,000 yards and is close to reaching the 2,000-yard mark in all-purpose running.

Henderson, like Dorsett and Payton, has electrified crowds with his ability to break the big play. It was Henderson who broke a 25-year Clemson jinx when he returned a kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown against Georgia Tech in 1987. Perhaps his best overall game as a Tiger came against Wake Forest that same year. That contest saw him gain 115 yards in the second half, including two nifty touchdown romps of 31 and 48 yards. As a high school senior, he rushed for a conference record 334 yards in one game.

"I hate to get tackled," joked Henderson who was in Sports Illustrated's "Faces in the Crowd" as a high school senior. "If it takes a lot of dancing around to make people miss then that's what I have to do. When I'm running the ball things just happen. Sometimes my mind might tell my body what to do, but my body just won't listen."

Clemson running back coach Chuck Reedy says Henderson has several admirable qualities both on and off the field. "Joe's quickness and the ability to make people miss him are the keys to his game. He changes direction very well. As a matter of fact, most of Joe's big runs have come when he changed directions and went against the grain. His ability to plant and cut quickly set him apart from many backs," says the Clemson assistant of 12 years.

Reedy says it is Henderson's personality that makes him one of the most well-liked persons on the squad. "Joe is very likeable and fun to be around. He keeps everyone loose because he always has something going on. He is playing a prank on somebody or joking around at the right times. He is just a lot of fun."

Henderson and fellow running backs Terry Allen and Wesley McFadden have wonderful relationships, despite the early competition between the three in 1987. "My first year, there was competition between us, but we kept it all in perspective," says Henderson. "We have helped each other out and remained close friends throughout the last four years. I think we are all each others biggest fans. We have all been close ever since my freshman year and have spent a lot of time together."

Henderson's slashing style has led to almost 2,000 all-purpose running yards.

Allen shares Henderson's feelings. "Joe is one of the nicest guys you would ever want to know. Joe is so fast, he puts a lot of pressure on the defense. He is a great influence on all of the younger guys because he works so hard. With the moves he puts on people, I know I would hate to have to tackle him."

"Joe is just down to earth," McFadden adds. "He always keeps you laughing. He is just a good natured person, a good friend and a great running back."

The Henderson-Allen-McFadden combination has amassed over 6,600 yards in all-purpose rushing over the past three seasons. Without the trio the Tigers would have been hard pressed to match their 25-4 mark and be ranked in every top 20 poll (40) since the first game of 1987.

As for the future, Henderson hopes he can reel off one more kickoff return for a touchdown. "I strongly believe I've got one or two more in me. We have been just one block away several times. I hope we can pop off at least one more before I leave," says Henderson, who is fourth in Clemson history in all-time kickoff return yards and first in a per return basis for his career.

Maybe one more kickoff return for a touchdown will help Clemson to another conference championship. If so, it will be Henderson's fifth consecutive conference championship (four at Clemson and one in high school).

They are records and team accomplishments that would make Walter Payton and Tony Dorsett proud.

Clemson Strength Training

By Annebelle Vaughan

If a member of Clemson's football team were to play every minute of every home game in 1989, he would probably spend a maximum of 18 hours on the field of Death Valley, one of the most impressive stadiums in the nation. And although there is very little chance that any player will play every snap, there is a place where every Clemson football player, and in fact every Clemson athlete, will spend many, many hours during the football season and during the entire year: Clemson's strength training facility, a place just as impressive in its own right as the famous Death Valley.

Careful planning and hard work by head strength coach Gary Wade and his staff of four assistants have made the Tiger Strength Training room another place on the list of Clemson's awesome facilities. A recent renovation has placed the facility, which is used by athletes in all 18 varsity sports at Clemson, among the best of its kind in the nation.

"As the success of our entire athletic program has grown, we have felt the need to grow along with it," says Wade, now in his fifth year at Clemson. "After our victory over Oklahoma in the Citrus Bowl, we came back and planned just how our facility needed to expand to accommodate the needs of our athletic program. We have taken what was already a great facility and improved it, so that I don't think there are too many in the country that can match it."

Expansion was the first order of business when it came to renovate. The size of the facility was increased from an already impressive 8,600 square feet to an astounding 11,000 square feet. This additional area provided room for more machines, more office space and a brand new entrance to the attractive facility. Wade also added more top-of-the-line Nautilus equipment and increased the amount of free weights contained in the weight room. The facility now boasts two full lines of machines and over 12 tons of weights.

"The increase in the amount of machines and free weights has given us multiples of everything," says Wade. "Now an athlete will never have to wait at a particular station for the athlete in front of him to finish. It also makes it possible for athletes from several sports to work out in the facility at the same time."

Wade also made one renovation that may not seem necessary to a strength training facility, but one that he feels is very important. "We upgraded our sound system when we upgraded the rest of our facility. I feel that it is important for our athletes to be able to work out in a pleasant, enjoyable atmosphere. It makes the weight room more functional because if the athletes enjoy what they are doing, they will continue to improve. I think that our facility has one of the best, if not the best atmospheres in the country and that helps our athletes' performance."

This atmosphere is enhanced by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, etched glass doors at the entrance, and a 20 speaker sound system.

These amenities make the facility a worthy site for over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

Wade and four assistants, Jay Akamine, Barney Farrar, Jimmy Gillespie, and Tommy Steele, personally supervise the individual weight programs of hundreds of athletes. The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even take their facility on the road, when the Tigers play in a bowl game. For the past two seasons, Wade and his assistants have set up a temporary weight room at the Tigers' hotel headquarters in Orlando, home of the Citrus Bowl.

Clemson has also placed 10 football players on the All-American Strength Team over the years, including five members in the past five seasons. This honor is a means of nationally recognizing athletes who have greatly improved their on-the-field performance through strength and conditioning. Clemson's all-time leading rusher, Kenny Flowers won the honor in 1984, while Jim Riggs, an All-ACC tight end who played in the Super Bowl with the Cincinnati Bengals in 1989, was a choice for the squad in 1985. Three time Academic All-ACC offensive tackle Ty Granger was a 1986 Strength All-American, while tight end Danny Pearman was honored for 1987.

A prime example of weight-training helping on-the-field performance is first round draft choice Donnell Woolford. Woolford added a Strength All-American certificate to his long list of accolades in 1988. "Donnell is a great example of what strength training can do for an athlete," says Wade. "Many great athletes don't think they need to work hard in the weight room. Donnell's attitude was just the opposite — he used it to keep getting better and better. He set a great example for other athletes to follow."

Football workouts are designed to help the Tigers in every aspect of the game and are different for every position. Flexibility and quickness are emphasized in addition to strength. "We want them to be able to perform at peak efficiency for four quarters in 11 or 12 games."

Wade is understandably proud of the Tigers' accomplishments on the field and in the area of strength training. "Our football team has really turned into a group of guys who enjoy strength training and desire improvement in that area. This enjoyment and desire is a result of their being able to see the effects it has on their performance. We are extremely fortunate to be able to provide them with such an outstanding facility. We take a great deal of pride in it and will try to keep it first-class at all times."

Clemson's 11,000 square foot strength training facility has one of the largest chest development areas in the nation.

HISTORY OF BATESVILLE MILL:

WILLIAM BATES BUILT THE ORIGINAL MILL AT THIS SITE BETWEEN 1812 AND 1840. DURING THIS ERA THE MILL WAS POWERED WITH WATER PROVIDED BY ROCKY CREEK. A LARGE WATER WHEEL LOCATED BEHIND THE MILL TURNED THE CONVEYOR BELTS WHICH IN TURN RAN THE SPINNING MACHINES. THE YARN PRODUCED BY THE MILL WAS DISTRIBUTED THROUGHOUT THE CAROLINAS BY A WAGON TEAM DRIVEN BY WILLIAM THACKSTON. HE TRADED YARN FOR HIDES, FURS, HAMS AND CAROLINA PRODUCE WHICH IN TURN WAS SOLD IN THE COMPANY STORE LOCATED ACROSS THE STREET. DURING THE CIVIL WAR THE MILL PRODUCED CLOTH FOR THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT AND ONLY ONE DAY A WEEK PRODUCED CLOTH TO SELL THEMSELVES. THE ORIGINAL MILL WHICH WAS A TWO STORY WOODEN STRUCTURE, BURNED AROUND 1880. THE NEW BUILDING WHICH IS STILL STANDING (NOW THE OLD MILL STREAM INN) IS OF LOCALLY HAND MADE BRICK.

WE INVITE YOU FOR A VISIT TO THE 19th CENTURY PERIOD. THE ENTIRE FAMILY WILL ENJOY IT.

Emergency Services

By Christine Kelly
Genetech, Inc.

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations (North stands, Upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck). These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMTs and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE

Please step back and give the organized stadium EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can be frequently more harmful than helpful.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry. Moderation is the key with dress, food, beverage intake and physical exertion. Our two more frequent serious medical problems at football games are allergic reactions to insect stings and heart attacks.

INSECT STINGS: Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice. Seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK: The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two minutes or more.

2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea and/or shortness of breath.

Expect a Denial

Frequently heart attack victims deny they're having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "it's just indigestion."

Find out what's really wrong. Prompt response can dramatically increase chances of survival and recovery.

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

CLEMSON TIGER FOOTBALL CAMP
P. O. Box 552
Clemson, SC 29631
(803) 656-2214

By Caroline Werntz

An "Orange Outburst" awaits the Virginia Cavaliers as they return to Death Valley to face the Tigers for what may be one of the most important, yet most unusual games of the year. It's Spirit Blitz '89 in Tigertown, and that means another record-breaking day at Frank Howard Field, this year in the form of the world's largest kazoo band. Yes, the world's largest kazoo band, 82,000 strong, performs at halftime of today's game, conducted by none other than Tiger basketball coach Cliff Ellis.

The kazooos, compliments of Bi-Lo, will be distributed to the legions of Tiger fans before the game by members of Central Spirit and other campus organizations.

"The promotion was first held by Vanderbilt University during halftime at one of their football games six years ago, when 42,000 fans participated to set the then unofficial record," said John Seketa, Clemson Sports Promotion Director.

"The University of Wisconsin followed that record with a kazoo band of 67,000. We knew that with all the Tiger fans here we would be able to set an unofficial world record. The Guinness Book of Records will not sanction the event because the kazoo is not a musical instrument," he said.

Spirit Blitz began in 1983 with a record-setting launch of 363,729 balloons. It was then that the idea of an annual record setting event was born. Other events have included the world's largest pep rally and the unfurling of the world's largest Tiger Paw flag.

Associate Athletic Director Len Gough put the driving idea behind Spirit Blitz into perspective when he said, "We want Spirit Blitz to be fun. Clemson people are special and want to be a part of world records in collegiate athletics. Spirit Blitz gives them that opportunity."

"This year's celebration is the third year in which Spirit Blitz has taken place over a full week, with different events planned for each day leading up to the game," said Scott Ruzyski, the Spirit Blitz chairman for Central Spirit.

This year's activities include the distribution of ribbons to students to tie on their cars, orange balloons in the Reflection Pool, Tiger Tracks on Bowman Field, a concert with the Swinging Medallions and a midnight pep rally on Friday. Additionally, 25,000 balloons will be released today at the game.

Spirit Blitz, however, is not the only thing that makes today's game special. Today is also Parent's Day at Clemson, a day when Mom and Dad are honored for getting their student to this point in his or her collegiate career. Pregame begins with the introduction of the parents of the senior football players. Tiger Brotherhood then honors this year's Mother-of-the-Year, Mrs. Elsie Wilson, as she "dots the I." Mrs. Wilson has been secretary to the past five Clemson University Presidents.

The invocation today is delivered by the Reverend Steven L. Price, associate pastor for University ministry at Fort Hill Presbyterian Church. Reverend Price heads the Presbyterian student association at Fort Hill.

Pregame festivities continue as band director Dr. Bruce Cook leads the Tiger Band and University Chorus in "America the Beautiful." Dr. Richard Goldstein directs the musicians in the "Star Spangled Banner" and Dr. Daniel Rash conducts the Clemson University Alma Mater. Finally, the band readies the crowd with "Sock It To 'Em" and "Tiger Rag" as the Tigers run down the hill for the 208th time.

The 82,000 kazooos will not provide the only halftime entertainment, however. The University of Virginia Pep Band performs in a show that promises to be wild and wacky, but always fun to witness.

Tiger Band then takes the field in a salute to the 50th anniversary of The Wizard of Oz that includes a portrayal of the movie complete with Dorothy, the Tin Man, the Scarecrow, the horrid Wicked Witch, and the Lion, appropriately played by the Tiger. Tiger Band begins its salute with an overture, followed by "Ding, Dong, The Witch Is Dead." Other numbers are "We're Off To See The Wizard," "Follow the Yellow Brick Road," "If I Only Had A Brain," and "Over The Rainbow." The halftime show then culminates with band announcer Nick Peck's introduction of "The Song That Shakes the Southland," TIGER RAG!!

This Parents' Day is extraordinarily special to four Tiger Band members who are following in their parents' footsteps in the annals of band history. Shannon Fogle of Lexington follows her mother, Joanne Cheek as a feature twirler. Brab Crooks of Greenville, who plays alto saxophone, joins the Tiger Band as his father Marion did when he served as drum major in 1967. Edward Horton's son Michael, who hails from Myrtle Beach, also is a part of Tiger Band like his father, although Michael chose the trumpet over his father's trombone. Also a trombone player, Richard Sherer of York sent his daughter Beth to Clemson, who joined the Tiger Band as a member of the flag corps.

These four are representative of true Clemson families for whom Parents' Day is an occasion that is "pawsitively exciting!"

Six years ago the Clemson student body released 363,729 balloons prior to the Maryland game to establish a mark in the Guinness Book of Records for a balloon launch.

GREAT TEAMS BEGIN WITH THEIR LINEMEN

Like the game of football, the success of any team depends greatly on its unsung heroes, the many people who pull together as one to get the job done.

At SCE&G, the name of our game is customer service. And our success depends on this same kind of teamwork.

Our team has a lot of unsung heroes. They're our linemen, gasmen, meter readers, engineers, and power plant operators. They're also the inspectors, computer experts, accountants and customer service representatives who work to serve you. In fact, they're everyone you depend on to be knowledgeable and safety conscious, to respond quickly and to give you the kind of quality service you've come to expect from the people at SCE&G.

Mother-of-the-Year

by Heather Czczok

Parents' Day is an annual tradition here at Clemson. On this day, we honor both individual families as well as the "Clemson family." The Tiger Brotherhood has selected this day to recognize the 1989 Mother-of-the-Year: Mrs. Elsie Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson was surprised when she found out that she was the recipient of this award. "Somebody called and told my husband, and I was thrilled. I've been at Clemson University a long time, but I don't know of anything that I have done that was outstanding enough to have the honor to receive this award. It's really neat to be honored like this. It's thrilling to me to be selected and I just get all excited when I think about it!"

Mrs. Wilson was born in Clemson to Charlie and Lucille Bennett, both Clemson natives. She grew up in the Calhoun section of Clemson and attended grade and high school here. Her father worked for 35 years in the University's Botany Department. Mrs. Wilson joined her father in attending all the athletic events, thus beginning her interest in Clemson.

After graduation, she attended Winthrop College because, as she recalls, "they (Clemson University) wouldn't take girls when I went to college." She then began working for the Agricultural Engineering and Poultry Departments.

In 1948 she married Betts Wilson, a 1941 graduate of Clemson who recently retired after 42 years of service to the school, including 15 years teaching in textiles. At the time Mrs. Wilson decided to stay home and raise their two children, Ken and Carol.

Since 1938 Mrs. Wilson has been a member of Clemson United Methodist Church. While her children were growing up she remained active in church activities. She assisted with the nursery and served as secretary of her Sunday School class for a number of years. She was also active in the Clemson University Women's Club and the Fort Hill Garden Club. Mrs. Wilson served as a Cub scout leader and an assistant Brownie leader, as well.

When her children were grown, Mrs. Wilson decided to return to work. She began by filling in for people on campus who had to take short leaves of absence. Eventually she ended up in the President's Office as a temporary secretary. She was given the title of secretary/administrative assistant which she has held for more than 25 years.

During this time she has worked with four different presidents — Dr. R. C. Edwards, Dr. Bill Atchley, Walter T. Cox, and Dr. Max Lennon. "Each president was completely different: personality, work habits, way of doing things," said Mrs. Wilson. "Everytime (there was) a new president, it was like (getting) a new job for me. I had to learn (each president's) way of doing things."

Dr. Edwards remembers what a key person she was in the office, "she had to know everything I knew about the job, maybe more. It would have been hard to function without her help. I don't know anyone that could have been more totally dedicated to her responsibilities and to serving Clemson. She never once violated a confidence, professionally or personally."

The Wilson's are still very involved in Clemson University. Mrs. Wilson is currently the administrative assistant to Dr. Lennon. The couple participates in many of the Alumni activities and attend as many athletic events as possible.

Mrs. Wilson's son, Ken, attended Clemson University, received a graduate degree from Yale, his M.S. from Hawaii, and his Ph.D. from Oxford. He now works in the Asian studies division at the University of Hawaii. He is also an author.

Mrs. Wilson's daughter, Carol, received her undergraduate and masters degrees from Clemson. She is a math teacher at Daniel High School and is married to Clemson graduate Ron Oakley. They have three children.

The Tiger Brotherhood is proud to recognize the accomplishments of Mrs. Elsie Wilson. Because of her contributions to both Clemson University and the Clemson Community, she more than deserves to be the 1989 Tiger Brotherhood Mother-of-the-Year.

Elsie Wilson

What is Tiger Brotherhood?

Today, the Brotherhood is a local, selective, honorary fraternity. It still embraces the same basic philosophy as established by its founders, led by Professor John Logan Marshall, in 1929. Enamored with ritual, the Tiger Brotherhood promotes high standards of social and ethical conduct, while recognizing in its members an earnest devotion to Clemson, coupled with the integrity of character commensurate with the typical Clemson Gentleman.

Tiger Brotherhood embodies an unequalled cross-sectional representation of the Clemson community. Students, faculty and staff all work within the bonds of brotherhood to champion a closer relationship. One for all and all for one. With Clemson, its many traditions and undying spirit as our central focus, the Brotherhood today provides a viable, flexible and continuing forum for ideas and unending service to Clemson.

DELICIOUS

Last year, ARA served thousands of meals to people away from home. College students, hospital staffs, industrial personnel. Why, right here in Clemson, ARA serves over 15,000 breakfasts, lunches and dinners to students, parents and faculty daily.

But you may not know our full story. ARA chooses only the freshest and most wholesome ingredients. Bright, crisp vegetables. Ripe, firm fruits. The choicest meats and dairy products. Ingredients that are chopped, steamed, broiled, baked and blended into delicious menus. For banquets or birthdays. Cocktail parties or tailgate feasts. In your home or in one of our private dining rooms in the Clemson House. No matter what your special occasion, ARA can fill the bill of fare.

So the next time your calendar is marked with a red letter day... call ARA for that special service.

Clemson University Commemorative Bowl Pins

Each set is individually numbered

Limited to 15,000 sets

Released for the first time in March 1989, this historic set of pins is the first to commemorate Clemson University participation in major collegiate bowl competition, beginning with the 1940 Cotton Bowl played January 1, 1940 in Dallas, Texas.

Each pin displays that year's distinctive Bowl Logo and the helmets of the Tigers and their opponent, with the points scored under each team's helmet. Each pin has a hanging drop piece that proclaims the name and emblem of the Bowl Champion.

With the assistance of Bob Bradley, Clemson Sports Information Director and his staff, the archives at Clemson University were researched for near forgotten authentic artwork from the fifteen bowls the Tigers participated in. As you look at your pin set, notice the helmets in the 1940 Cotton Bowl were brown leather with no face mask, also notice the absence of the now familiar "Tiger Paw." The Tigers first bowl appearance using the "New Plastic Helmets" was the 1949 Gator Bowl. The face mask made its first Clemson Bowl appearance in the 1957 Orange Bowl and the now famous "Tiger Paw" made its bowl debut in the 1977 Gator Bowl. The results of the research are designs for each pin that pull together and preserve the historic past of Clemson Football.

This Commemorative Clemson University Pin Collection is limited to 15,000 sets. Each set is numbered, with the production of the 15,000th set the molds will be destroyed, thus assuring the purchaser that this commemorative pin set is truly a collectors piece that will appreciate in value year after year.

To ensure that pins for future bowls will be available, Sports Mint, Inc. will produce a commemorative pin for all future bowls the Clemson Tiger Football Team participates in. The pin will be available to set owners 60 days after the completion of the bowl.

One of the most unique approaches to remembering Clemson's bowl games that I've seen in my 80 years.

Owning one of these should be a must to every Tiger fan.

— Coach Frank Howard

This is one of the classiest remembrances of Clemson's bowl history ever assembled. The workmanship and thought put into these 15 post-season games is authentic in every detail.

— Bob Bradley

Sports Information Director

No one's tiger den will be complete without one of these plaques showing all of the Clemson Bowl games. It will be a conversation piece for years to come.

— Coach Danny Ford

(Set No. 1 was presented to Danny Ford to go on permanent display at Jervey Athletic Center.)

THE PROVIDENCE HEART INSTITUTE IS BUILT ON SOMETHING SOLID.

he Providence Heart Institute's new building is one of the finest medical facilities in the country. But to a patient with a life-threatening heart disease, an attractive, efficient building isn't enough. What is important is inside the building—Providence people, with the experience gained in treating thousands of patients.

Providence has more adult cardiovascular experience than any other hospital in South Carolina. For over fifteen years we have been the state's leading referral center for the diagnosis and treatment of heart disease. Physicians and patients have long recognized our reputation for professional skills and compassionate care.

We're excited about our new building, equipped for state-of-the-art testing and treatment. But that building isn't the reason people come to the Providence Heart Institute. They come for what it's built on.

EXPERIENCE.

Columbia, South Carolina

The Clemson University athletic program is competitive on the national level. In the 1988-89 year Clemson was one of just eight schools in the country to have teams participate in a bowl game (1989 Citrus Bowl), the NCAA basketball tournament (1989 West Regional), and the NCAA baseball tournament (Atlantic Regional). Clemson was one of only three schools to gain at least one win in each postseason event, tied the ACC record for overall conference championships in an academic year and finished sixth in the national All-Sports poll.

The success of the Clemson athletic program comes during a time when the integrity and accountability of the academic progress of student athletes are receiving national attention. IPTAY has been a large part of this success by being committed to the student athlete.

IPTAY is recognized as one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America. IPTAY was the first athletic fundraising organization in the country to top the two, three, four and five-million dollar marks in annual donations. The 1988-89 academic year marks the 25th consecutive year of increased contributions to the IPTAY scholarship fund.

In 1934 Dr. Rupert Fike founded IPTAY with a very simple purpose in mind. IPTAY provides funds for athletic scholarships. Clemson continues to be one of the few schools in the nation to award the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for 18 men's and women's varsity sports. Since 1934, IPTAY has provided scholarships for over 5,000 student athletes, trainers, and managers. In recent years an average of 450 student-athletes per year have been recipients of scholarships funded by IPTAY. IPTAY currently has a reserve fund to cover the scholarship costs for the student-athletes presently attending Clemson on athletic scholarships and scholarships committed to incoming freshman.

IPTAY currently provides the funds for tutorial programs staffed by trained academic advisors assisted by graduate and undergraduate students. This support is intended to assure that all student-athletes are given the opportunity to earn their degree while participating in athletics. Future plans include a commitment of IPTAY funds for a new $2.5 million Academic Learning Center.

The Academic Learning Center is a 29,000 square-foot facility. It will house the tutoring and advising program for student-athletes. The building will contain various sized study and tutoring rooms to be used for individual study as well as for small group instruction. Computer facilities, an office/reception area for the advising staff and an auditorium will also be contained in the facility. IPTAY is proud to be a part of the commitment on behalf of the athletic department administration to pursue academic success for all student-athletes.

The generous support of over 20,000 loyal donors to IPTAY has allowed the organization to go beyond the funding of athletic scholarships by providing the financial basis for many of the unparalleled athletic facilities at Clemson.

Since 1978, IPTAY has provided the funding for $32 million of capital improvements in the area of athletics. These improvements include the expansion of the football stadium, the newly renovated baseball facility (Tiger Field), the indoor tennis facility, the soccer stadium, the new outdoor track, the weight room, the new golf practice area, a new cross country course, and the IPTAY/Ticket office facility.

IPTAY is also proud to provide funding for the Tiger Band. Each year IPTAY budgets financial support for travel, uniforms and equipment for this integral part of the Clemson athletic program.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Athletic Academic Endowment Scholarship was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. This scholarship endowment is funded by certain company gifts which are made as a result of employee contributions to IPTAY. In addition, the athletic department has made generous contributions to the endowment from athletic revenues. The Athletic Academic Endowment Scholarship is presently the largest scholarship endowment at Clemson.

The tremendous success of IPTAY is due, in large part, to the organizational makeup which allows members to be as close to IPTAY as they are to their local IPTAY leadership. Each of South Carolina's 46 counties has an IPTAY County Chairman, and every county is allotted one IPTAY representative for every 35 members.

IPTAY donors are kept up-to-date with Clemson athletics through the Orange and White. This is an official IPTAY publication and distributed exclusively to IPTAY donors in appreciation of their support.

Clemson University will continue to be recognized and respected on the national level athletically and academically with the full support of IPTAY. IPTAY will continue to be successful because a loyal commitment to Clemson University is a way of life in the hearts of Clemson alumni and friends.

Allison Dalton is the Executive Secretary of IPTAY.

I want to know.*

*Sid Gauthreaux wants to know if the destruction of tropical rain forests is also destroying our
backyard birds.*

Annual bird counts in North America are revealing an alarming trend — the populations of our most familiar springtime songbirds are shrinking.

Scientists suspect the reason may be the destruction of rain forest habitat in the tropics.

Many migratory birds — such as thrushes, warblers and orioles — breed in North America but winter in Central America, South America and the Caribbean.

Years ago, Clemson zoologist Sid Gauthreaux pioneered a technique for using radar to study bird migration.

Today, he's using that technique to compare radar films from the late 1950s with those of the late 1980s. He'll be able to tell, without a doubt, if fewer birds are migrating from the tropics in spring.

Gauthreaux also plans to do work at Clemson's newest research facility, the John Archbold Tropical Research Center on the Caribbean island of Dominica, West Indies. The 200-acre center borders acres of prime rain forest, home to two endangered species of parrot. This outdoor laboratory — a biologist's dream — was given to Clemson by Virginia philanthropist John Archbold in May. The University has put together a consortium of schools and agencies — including the Smithsonian, Yale University and the U.S. Forest Service — which will conduct research at the Archbold Center.

They'll also take students to see and experience, first-hand, the wonders of the rain forest.

Clemson University . . . learning, understanding and teaching about our environment.

Orange Ya Glad You're A Tiger

By Todd A. Steadman

It's been said that the most exciting three minutes in sports is the running of the Kentucky Derby. That may be true, but on certain Saturday afternoons in a small South Carolina town called Clemson, the most exciting minute of college football occurs as the Clemson Tiger football team runs down a hill at the eastern end of the stadium and pours onto the field to a bone-chilling and heart-racing rendition of "Tiger Rag." There is no greater entrance in college sports. The tradition started because the hill was the closest entrance to the stadium from the old field house. Later, when a dressing room was added to the stadium, the tradition continued. Only now, after their initial warmup, the Tigers load a bus at the opposite end of the stadium and drive around to run down the hill. The Tigers, you see, take the pageantry of their football pretty seriously. Plus, it scares the heck out of the opponents.

Autumn, 1982.

I'd just made a 12-hour drive from Baton Rouge to Clemson, and it was well into the small hours of morning. But instead of climbing wearily into the warmth of my old bed at my parents' house, I found myself climbing over the chain link fence surrounding Death Valley Stadium, home of the Fighting Tigers of Clemson University. A part of me knew I should't be doing it, but I also knew I was much more likely to pick up trash or put something back in place as opposed to littering or vandalizing. I'm pretty good at rationalizing when I need to be. After all, this was "my" stadium, and I had great respect for it.

As I dropped to the ground, I recalled the last time I had actually been on the field. It was 1966, and along with a hundred other kids, I had rushed the players after the game and collected the chinstrap of Buddy Gore, our tailback. This night, however, I had the field to myself as I walked to the Tiger Paw on the 50-yard line and lay flat on my back in the dew-soaked turf. To this day, I swear I could hear the roar of 80,000 Tiger fans. And for the first time, I really understood the power of what has come to be known as the 12th man — the fan. The sensations I felt down on that empty field made me believe that even I could tear a hole in a defensive line and execute a picture-perfect run to the end zone. I smiled as I imagined what an opposing team has to put up with when the stadium is full and an accomplished athlete gets these vibes. Death Valley is indeed an appropriate name.

I suppose the fact that I was lying down in the heart of my hometown, alma mater, and a couple of miles from my mother's cooking added to the intensity of the moment. But I'd made the trip home expressly for a football game, and the Tigers were foremost on my mind (sorry, Mom). We were the defending National Champions, no small feat for a school of roughly 12,500 students in a town that's even smaller. National Champions or not, I've always had fierce pride in Clemson. And for good reason.

Clemson epitomizes college football. It has history, legends, good seasons, not-so-good seasons, and loyal fans. Better make that maniacal fans. Webster's, by the way, defines maniacal as "ungovernable excitement or frenzy suggestive of madness." I suppose painting your face a really loud color of orange and walking proudly, in broad daylight, through a crowd of similarly dressed doctors, lawyers, and businessmen has to come close to qualifying as a form of madness. Call Tiger fans whatever you like, I challenge any school to rival Clemson for attendance, especially when you consider the student and town population. Together, the students and town equal roughly 20,000 people. The average attendance at a Clemson home game figures out to be around 80,000. And the stadium holds 79,000. So in effect, this tiny town (six red lights at my last count) quadruples in size for a weekend. And it happens almost every home game, whether televised or not. Now that is loyalty.

In all honesty, I must point out that it hasn't always been this way. I can recall as a grade-schooler sitting on the 50 yard line with my two brothers drinking hot chocolate from a thermos while Clemson beat North Carolina. Today, I'd probably have to give up my next two years of income and firstborn child to get the same seats during a torrential downpour. Beginning in the mid-seventies, Clemson really started to turn its football program around. A series of stellar players and decisive victories began to focus national attention on the Tigers and awakened the most valuable component to any athletic program: support.

I'm not just talking about waving pom-poms either. IPTAY, the athletic scholarship fundraising organization, is one of the largest athletic booster organizations in the country. This includes schools with student populations six and seven times the size of Clemson, located in cities a couple hundred times as big. That's bound to impress even the most cynical or jealous of opposing fans.

A lion's share of the credit goes to current head coach Danny Ford. He is the winningest coach in the history of the ACC, the youngest coach ever to win a National Championship (at 33), and one of the winningest active coaches in NCAA football today. And it's been said that he can hit a grasshopper with his tobacco juice from 20 feet away. That's with Red Man during the week and Taylors Pride on a game day.

I remember that the year we won the National Championship a lot of Tiger fans had to listen to talk about how we'd gotten lucky, how we were a fluke, and things of that nature. "Where and what was Clemson", seemed to be a common question. A couple of weeks after the Orange Bowl victory that won us the title, I was watching the Super Bowl with some friends. Within a three minute time span Jim Stuckey, a Tiger and defensive player for the San Francisco Forty-Niners, made a key defensive play and shortly thereafter, Joe Montana threw a touchdown pass to Dwight Clark, another Tiger playing for the Forty-Niners. And then the camera cut to the press box where Miss Universe, Shawn Weatherly (you guessed it — a Tiger) was watching the game. I sat back, smiled and said, "This, my friends, is what tigers are made of."

Every once in a while I'll encounter football fans who don't seem to feel the way I do about Clemson. I suppose if I was from another college I'd be a little jealous, too. I think a lot of it is that some people have trouble taking us serious because we are small. In my opinion, that's what makes us special. I kind of like knowing that not everyone is aware of how good we are. It provides a certain element of surprise.

Today, anyone who follows sports has got to have heard of Clemson. But I've often wondered about those unsuspecting travelers, say from the Northeast, who have wandered unwittingly into the Carolina Piedmont on a football Saturday and decided to take a side trip to Clemson. Perhaps they wanted to visit the Botanical Gardens or Calhoun Mansion or buy the best blue cheese in America. I've wondered what they would think as they hit bumper-to-bumper traffic miles away from town and were forced to stay in the flow of cars. As they'd park in a field full of orange-clad revelers listening to the Tiger Tailgate Show, eating fried chicken, and bursting into spontaneous cheers, I've wondered if they would even summon up enough courage to get out of their car. It is a frightening color of orange (PMS 165, to be exact — which has to translate to "Pretty Mean Shade"). I can't help but think of the effect this phenomenon has on the opposing team of the day.

College football is not a life-and-death matter. Hopefully, we are all aware that there are other issues much more important to humanity than scoring a touchdown. They escape me at present, but I've got them written down somewhere. I hope that everyone reading this article has something that makes them feel as good as I do at a Clemson game. When I stand up, sing the alma-mater, say the Pledge of Allegiance, sing "The Star-Spangled Banner," and then watch my Tigers run onto the field, my eyes water, my toes curl, and my chest swells with pride. And I have no apologies for how crazy we Clemson fans can be. The way I look at it, anything that makes me feel this good, can be done in public, doesn't cause cancer, and is perfectly legal, is alright by me. I'm sure other fans feel a similar sensation for their teams. Of course, I hope they have come to grips with the fact that, well, as good as they are, they will never be a Clemson Tiger.

The Last Word

By Bob Bradley

George Welsh has had a break-even or better conference record in five of his seven years at Virginia. He's already won over twice as many league games as any of his predecessors. And before this season is over, Welsh will no doubt become the winningest football coach in Cavalier history.

The 56-year-old Welsh started his eighth Cavalier campaign seven wins behind Art Guepe, who won 47 games in seven years at Charlottesville. Virginia started 1989 with four wins in the first five games, and counting a fast finish in '88 with five consecutive triumphs, Welsh has now notched nine triumphs in his last 10 games.

The only loss? To top-ranked Notre Dame in this year's Kickoff Classic, which opened the 1989 seasons for both teams.

Counting an 8-4 year in 1987, with a six-point win over Brigham Young in the All American Bowl, and a 7-4 finish last season, to go with this campaign's outstanding start, Welsh's Cavaliers have won 19 of their last 29. And Clemson can count its lucky stars on two of those Virginia losses.

Two years ago, on this same Frank Howard Field sod, Clemson was a 38-21 winner. And one would be tempted to say: "Ho hum, just Chip Davis was wide open when he caught a 14-yard scoring pass in the last moments of Clemson's 10-7 win in Charlottesville last year. It was Clemson's third three-point win over Virginia this decade.

another Tiger win over Virginia."

But the Clemson coaching staff and the players who saw action in that game will remember that the Tigers trailed 7-0 at one time and 14-7 after 15 minutes. Even after Clemson tacked on 17 second quarter points, the Cavaliers cut the lead to 24-21 in the third period. The Tigers were able to get another score in the third quarter and another in the fourth as the defense bowed up and kept the Cavaliers out of the end zone.

The two teams scored the second fewest number of points — 17 — in the 28-game series last year at Charlottesville. Only the second game of the series (1956) has had fewer and that was a 7-0 Clemson triumph at home.

Although the two teams produced nearly 650 yards of total offense, it wasn't until 1:26 remained in the third quarter that Chris Gardocki gave the Tigers a 3-0 lead with a 33-yard field goal.

Shawn Moore, whom Clemson will have to defense again today, and Herman Moore, Shawn's favorite receiver this season, teamed up on a 14-yard scoring strike that put the Cavaliers ahead, 7-3, with less than five and a half minutes left to play. That alley-ooper sent most of the 42,000 on hand into a frenzy. Was history in the making? Could it be that the 27-game losing streak to Clemson was finally coming to an end? Victory had slipped away before with less time showing, but this Cavalier team had given the Tigers much more than they wanted to digest.

Even though Clemson had not been able to cross the alumni line all afternoon, quarterback Rodney Williams was not one to give up, a la Homer Jordan in 1980.

With time running down on every play, the Tigers took over on their own 20 and drove to the Virginia 14. Fifty-five of those 66 yards had been eaten up rushing by tailback Terry Allen.

As Clemson got set with the line of scrimmage at the 14, Williams noticed that when Chip Davis lined up as a wideout, Virginia did not send any defensive coverage to confront him.

With a nod to each other, Davis went straight down the left sideline, Williams raised up and hit the streaking Davis with a perfect pass that was good for a 14-yard touchdown, and a 10-7 Clemson win.

This marked the 28th consecutive time the Tigers had beaten the Cavaliers, but it was also the ninth time Clemson had won by seven points or less. And the three three-point victories have all come in this decade.

The first one was in 1980, Danny Ford's second full year as Tiger head coach — a season where Clemson would win only two of its last six games to remain just above .500 at 6-5. It was nearly five losses in the last seven contests though.

But another skin-of-the-teeth squeaker took place with the Cavaliers.

After seeing a 10-10 tie at halftime, Virginia came out with all guns blazing. Late in the third quarter, in a matter of two minutes, 35 seconds, the Cavaliers pushed over 14 points and the Tigers found themselves down by 14 with just under 17 minutes to play.

Clemson got one score back in a hurry after the kickoff. A Jordan to Jerry Gaillard pass ate up 51 yards on the last play of the third quarter. On the first play of the last period, Brendon Crite circled left end, tight-roped down the sidelines and went in from 26 yards to bring Clemson to within seven of a tie.

On Virginia's third possession after Crite's score, the Tigers forced a punt at the 30. Willie Underwood rushed through to block the kick and Bill Smith scooped the ball up at the 11 and scored. Obed Ariri kicked the tying extra point.

Steve Durham threw quarterback Todd Kirtley for a 12-yard loss on a third-down play to force another Cavalier punt and Clemson gained possession on its own 47. Three incomplete passes and three running plays netted just 18 yards to the Virginia 35. With six seconds left, each team called timeouts as Ariri waited. But when play resumed, Ariri was successful on a 52-yard field goal for a 27-24 Clemson win.

Ariri was especially quoteable in the postgame interviews. "Pressure? That was not pressure," said Ariri, who was joking with his own players during all the timeouts. "Pressure is playing soccer for your country in front of 100,000 people." Ariri had been a member of the Nigerian National Team during his high school days.

Before Virginia got another offensive chance, Clemson was penalized three times on the kickoff and finally kicked a third time from its own 15. The Tigers intercepted Kirtley, but that was nullified with a Tiger penalty. His next pass fell incomplete and it was finally over. And both coaches kinda muttered to each other: "What a helluva way to make a living!"

The nation watches today through the CBS camera as Welsh and Ford try to out-wit each other, each hoping for a break, mental lapse, or just plain ole football savvy, which will carry his team to victory. Neither will be choosy how the triumph comes. Each knows there has never been a bad victory or a good loss.
